 - a. Accommodation requests are voluntary and will involve an individualized, interactive process where both UTRGV and the requesting student engage in a good faith discussion based on the student's specific needs, with the goal of identifying reasonable options for accommodations. Accommodations that constitute undue hardship are not reasonable.
 - b. Reasonable accommodations for pregnant students may include (without limitation):

- i. Excused absences with the availability to make up missed assignments or coursework;
 - ii. Additional time to complete assignments (applied in the same manner as ADA/Section 504 accommodations for additional time on assignments or tests, with required documentation);

 - iv. Access to instructional materials and video recordings of lectures (if available) for classes due to excused absences due to pregnancy or related conditions (applied in the same manner as any other student with excused absences); and

In addition, if the pregnant or parenting student is in good academic standing at the time of the leave of absence, the student may return to the same degree or certificate program in good academic standing without being required to reapply for admission. In such an instance where a student takes a leave of absence, the student may re-enroll within the Texas Higher Education Coordination Board's approved period.
